

Letter from Mabel Hubbard Bell to Alexander Graham Bell, September 2, 1875, with transcript

Letter from Miss Mabel G. Hubbard to Dr. Alexander Graham Bell. (Brattle St. Sept. 2nd. 1875) Dear Mr. Bell:

Thanks for the two notes received yesterday and today. I am very glad you have had such a kind letter from your father. Will you ever doubt his love again? It seems to me a very sad thing that there should be any want of confidence between a son and his father. I am sorry your letters have troubled your mother so much. I am sure you will do all you can to make her happy and to show your parents that it was only great excitement and not real estrangement that made you write as you did.

I am sorry for the death of your friend Dr. Allen. I never have heard of him but he must have been a kind friend and good man.

Wishing you a very pleasant visit at home.

I am yours sincerely, Mabel G. Hubbard. Brattle St. Sept. 2nd, 1875.
